

Notes from UD 7

Six former UD students are serving on a committee to re-evaluate the bilingual curriculum for the Fort Worth Independent School District.

The students on the committee who received master's degrees through the UD bilingual/bicultural Spanish program are Fay Osborne, Francis Paul Thompson, Jean Thompson and Karen Thomas. UD graduates with Spanish majors serving on the committee are Robert Pijuan and Hyda Flores.

* * * *

An Oriental art sale of prints and paintings will be at UD on Oct. 31. The sale will be in the University Gallery on the main level of the new Haggar University Center from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Oriental art sale is presented by Marson Inc. and is scheduled in conjunction with an exhibition of Chinese embroidered silk. The exhibit, which includes items given by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Torion of Dallas, will continue on display through Nov. 16 in the University Gallery of the Haggar University Center.

* * * *

Five UD faculty members participated in the Twenty-Eighth Annual Texas Conference on Teacher Education in Fort Worth Oct. 26-28. The conference was sponsored by the Texas Education Agency, which is composed of 60 Texas colleges and universities with accredited programs in teacher education.

Dr. Cherie Clodfelter, chairman of the education department, along with Dr. M. Tim Grady, Mrs. Hazel McDermott, Father Thomas Cumiskey OP, and Dr. James Teller, participated in seminars, discussions and panels.

* * * *

The District II Convention of the Texas Student Education Association will be hosted by the Dallas Chapter on Oct. 31 and Nov. 1. District II is comprised of 30 universities.

Larry Yawn, president of the Texas State Teachers Association, will be the guest speaker at the Friday evening meeting, and other noted educators will conduct seminars on Friday afternoon and Saturday morning.